Dear Partners in Mission,

June 2018

Thank you so much for your support and interest for this ministry over the years! Over the years that God has given me the opportunity to teach, I've had many different students with a variety of qualities. Some individuals have shined in classes and others not so much. However, there have been two groups of students who have made strong impressions. This picture is from the second group, after their last final exam with me. Most were hoping for a change in the schedule for this term that would mean they'd have me yet again, but after 7 different classes with them, we're done. They are in the homestretch for their degree and I'm with other students. I thank God for the privilege to have worked with them so much, trying to unfold the richness that is the career of physical therapy for them, while sharing God's love. Please pray that these students will go forth into the world shining God's love into the lives of their patients and neighbors as they guide them through their physical therapy.

Thanks to God and to you, the construction ministry continues to bless families here in Santa Fe. Here Farre and José are examining the home of Cristobalina, a member of a different church, to determine what we could do for her. By the time you get this, this family will be living in a home made of cement block with a roof made with new wood and tin. Her floor will be higher than the street so that when it rains the water won't flood in from there too. The ministry team are very grateful to God for moving so many to contribute to this project which allows us to offer this assistance to families in our community. Please pray that God guides our decisions and actions for our neighbors.

As I mentioned in my last update, I plan to be in Colorado from mid-August through December for my home ministry assignment. My hope is to visit supporting churches and share in person about how God is working in the DR. Please let me know if you and your church want me to visit, so we can arrange the details. I will need to spend more time in Denver to be supportive of my parents, so if anyone on the East/SE side of the city can offer a longish-term housing possibility, please let me know. Please pray that God is in control of all that will take place during this home ministry assignment.

May God's peace and grace always be yours in abundance!

In Christ,
Cathy
