

Holy Week 2014

Palm Sunday lining up for our parade around Santa Fe. The Catholic Church is in the background.

Along our walk with palms and folks of all ages.

Pausing for a prayer along the way, led by Vanel Saint Juste, our seminary graduate.

Heading back to church with the Colegio Episcopal Santa Cruz in the background and Magalis leading the way with the cross.

In church with the service getting started.

Our Chrismal mass in the Cathedral of the Epiphany. The clergy are gathering to renew their ordination vows.

The passing of the peace.

And the bishop giving the benediction to all.

And the seminarians lead the way out for the recessional.

On Easter Sunday we had 8 baptisms.
Here is Reynaldo, my godson.

And here is his sister, Carmen, my goddaughter.

At the end of our Easter service, a new group of singers took the front of the church to share with us. Two of them are daughters of members of Las Chicas Nices del Señor.
